It was directed in G. O. No. J 1784 d 24-12-12 that Mr Sparkes might draw leave allowances at half his average Salary till 30th April 1913 under the impression that till then he was entitled to the same. This would have been the case if Mr Sparkes' leave had been governed by the rules in chapter XIII M.S.R. But the benefit of the rules in chapter XIV having been extended to him, Mr Sparkes was only entitled to one year's furlough on medical certificate under these rules on the 19th Feby 1912. Thus then he was entitled to leave allces at half average salary only till 18th Feby 1913 and not after that date. In these circes the original order of the 24th Decr 12 under which Mr Sparkes now claims half average salary till 30-4-13 was superseded by the G. O. No. H 5122-3 d 10-4-13 and half average salary allowed only till 18-2-13. The connected files are put up. A draft D O. reply.

at half average Salary. ~~under~~ At that time you were treated as subject to the leave rules of chapter XIII M.S.R and under those rules you would have been entitled to leave on half average salary upto 30th April 1913.

~~on misapprehension of fact~~, you could have drawn at that rate allowances if the benefit of the rules under chapter XIV M.S.R. (European Services leave rules) had not been extended ~~to you~~. The benefits of chapter XIV were however given ~~made applicable~~ to your ~~case~~ at your own request by an order of Govt passed ~~subsequently~~ on the 13th November 1912 and under the rules in that chapter ~~as thereunder~~ you were entitled to only one years furlough on medical certificate on 19-2-1912. You can ~~could~~ draw leave allces at half average Salary only upto ~~18th February 1913~~ that date. By coming under the rules of chapter XIV you have gained £ 72-3-4 in leave allce upto 18-2-1913. D. O. No. 676(9)

Dear Sir,

I am in receipt of your letter of the 27th April 1913 inviting my attention to the late Dewan's D.O.No.601 dated 13th July 1912 and suggesting that your leave allowances may be paid at half average salary till 30th April 1913, The late Dewan Mr. T. At that time you were treated as subject to the leave rules of Chapter XIII Mysore Service Regulations and under those rules you would have been entitled to leave on half average salary upto 30th April 1913. The benefits of Chapter XIV were however given to you at your own request by an order of Government passed on the 13th November 1912 and under the rules in that Chapter you were entitled to only one year's furlough on medical certificate on 19th February 1912. XIV has therefore to be regarded as ending on 18th February 1913 and you can draw leave allowances at half average salary only up to that date. By coming under the rules of Chapter XIV you have gained £ 72-3-4 in leave allowance up to 18th February 1913. If you had remained under the Indian Service Rules (Chapter XIII) you could have drawn at £ 50 per month from 19th February 1913 to 30th April 1913 instead of at £ 43-15-0. The difference at £ 6-5-0 per month amounts to £ 14-14-7. So the nett gain to you by coming under the rules of Chapter XIV is £ 57-8-9. In these circumstances I hope you will see that what has been done has resulted in gain to you - - - instead of loss. The Govt. Order No. Fl 5622-3/S&A 408-12-3 dated 10th April 1913 is therefore correct and needs no change.
